JECO eNews for March 2015

Brett Hedger, the guest speaker at the JECO annual general meeting, got me thinking about "one thing" I could do to live more sustainably. I mentioned how I hate throwing away plastic dish detergent bottles. Brett goes to a shop in Fitzroy that sells bulk cleaning products and refills bottles, but I didn't want to add another "shopping destination" to my list especially one on the other side of the river! Eventually I found a stall at the South Melbourne Market that sells bulk cleaning products. I am now not throwing away dish detergent bottles, surface spray bottles and liquid hand soap bottles. It's become almost an obsession to see what I can buy in bulk.

JECO will have a stall at the In One Voice event on Sunday and Brett will be there from noon to 1:00. Come and have a chat with him.

Green Tip

Do you have external hot water pipes from your hot water tank to the taps? You can reduce the energy needed to heat the water by wrapping the hot water pipes with insulating tape from your local hardware shop.

You should do your own appraisal of products and services reported. JECO cannot take any responsibility for the accuracy of the information provided.

The JECO Committee welcomes input to and comments about JECO eNews.

JECO works to deepen the Jewish community's commitment to caring for the earth. We believe there is a religious as well as a moral obligation to protect the environment. To this end we work with Jewish, secular and multi-faith groups in supporting activities that promote sustainability.
